Few people suspect what elalorate rrangements have to be made when jucen Victoria gies on a journey. To eep her secure from harm within her wn residences requires no little alertiess, but when the Queen travels from condon to Balmoral—a distance of about 20 miles when the condonate of a con 90 miles, which takes nineteen hours to erform—hundleds of men, railway em-doyes, policemen, and other officials ave to be told off for special duty; and cores of trains carrying passengers or 8 00 5 00 cores of trains carrying passengers or reight are delayed in their progress.

In England, there is nothing of all this; the Queen has no military guard or escort, and yet all the measures 5 00 for her protection are admirably and complete. A pilot engi- e precedes t e n hour before it passes wil traffic on soth tracks along its route is suspended. There is no resumption of the traffic at the different stations until a quarter of 25 00 on hour af or the Queen's own train has

15 00 danger signals are exhibited at all these

In the royal food train itself there are two "look out" men 10 00 besides the ordinary guard. One of them stands on the eogine and faces the ear of the train to watch for signals from any of the windows; the other is 20 00 stationed in the guard's van and keeps 3 00 his eve on the track behind the train. 50 00 An electric apparatus connects all the 2 00 carftages with the engine and guard's 8 00 van, and three telegraph operators 10 00 travel in one of the compartments with 1 50 appliances for rep iring the wires on the 7 50 road if, in the event of an accident 7 of these wires should be found damig d. 18 00 Finally, a director of the Northwestern company goes with the train, and is supposed to have charge of it-a necessary precaution, for if anything went wrong it would be desirable that an official should be on the spot with powers to issue orders to all railway servants in the name of the company.
